

I live in missouri, lately after the fall of @home internet service the service has been slow, paying 55 bucks for capped upload of 128kpbs, with no dollar over the cap, or no tier services, and the prices continue to increase. I hope the future changes soon for broadband.